

Accessory Dwelling Units

An overview of ADUs with amendments from the Affordable
Homes Act

What is an ADU

- An Accessory Dwelling Unit is a secondary residential living space located on the same lot of a single-family home. ADUs can be within an existing primary residence, like converting a basement into an apartment, attached to a primary residence as a new construction addition, or completely detached, like a cottage or converted detached garage in a backyard.
- Barnstable Defines an Accessory Dwelling Unit as a self-contained Dwelling Unit, inclusive of sleeping, cooking, and sanitary facilities, incorporated within a lawful principal single-family dwelling or within a detached building accessory to and on the same lot and in the same ownership as a lawful principal single-family dwelling use. ADUs, as proposed, are subject to regulations and requirements regarding rental, square footage, bedrooms, and occupancy.

Barnstable's ADU Ordinance

- Additionally, the Town Council affirmatively voted to approve Item No. 2021-175, as written, to incorporate a provision for the ability to seek relief by special permit for ADUs greater than 900 square feet.

ADUs by-right. The Act allow ADUs by right in single-family zoning districts subject only to reasonable regulations including, but not limited to, site plan review, Title 5, dimensional setbacks, restrictions on the bulk and height of structures.

- Supersede any inconsistent local ADU bylaws
- Removes the ability of cities and towns to impose owner occupancy requirements on ADUs or their principal dwellings
- Affirms the ability of municipalities to regulate, or prohibit the short-term rental of ADUs
- Municipalities cannot require a special permit or other discretionary zoning approval for the use or rental of an ADU that meets the maximum size or number defined by the AHA.
- Clarifies that the square footage reference in the definition applies to GROSS floor area. Not larger in gross floor area than half (1/2) the gross floor area of the principal dwelling or 900 square feet, whichever is smaller.
- Municipalities cannot impose parking requirements in excess of ONE parking space per ADU. No parking spaces may be required when an ADU is located not more than 0.5 mile from a commuter rail station, subway station, ferry terminal or bus station
