Terminal Building Named at Cape Cod Gateway Airport

The Cape Cod Gateway Airport is naming the terminal building in honor of aviation pioneers Russell Boardman and John Polando. This will commemorate the 90th anniversary of their record-breaking journey across the Atlantic Ocean. The building will be called the Russell Boardman and John Polando Terminal Building.

Background: During the summer of 1930, Boardman and Polando trained at the Hyannis Airport (now known as the Cape Cod Gateway Airport) for their overseas flight. They considered the HYA air strip to be their home base which encouraged Boardman to rename his Bellanca Special J-6 monoplane to “Cape Cod.” They took off from Floyd Bennet Field in New York City on July 28th, 1931 and landed on July 30th at Yesilkoy Airport in Istanbul, Turkey, a distance of 5,011.8 miles. Their flight was the first recorded transatlantic flight since Lindbergh’s in 1927 and set a new non-stop distance world record. Boardman and Polando flew 49 hours and eight minutes in a single engine plane, stripped of doors, radio, brakes and lights to accommodate every ounce of fuel possible. Some 728 gallons of gasoline had been stowed in metal cans throughout the plane. All but five gallons was used on the trip. They landed with 15 minutes of fuel to spare. A large meteorological map and a compass served as their navigation tools. In 1981, the airfield at HYA was renamed Boardman/Polando Field to recognize their accomplishment. Cape Cod Connection: Russell N. Boardman was born in Connecticut in 1898. His family had a home on Bass River in South Yarmouth, Massachusetts. For a year—1930— Mr. Boardman ran Hyannis Airport. In 1931, his Bellanca came with the name American Legion, but he promptly changed it to Cape Cod. John L. Polando was born into a large Lynn, Massachusetts family in 1901. His first Cape Cod flights were as a member of the Massachusetts Air Guard’s summer encampment at what is now Cape Cod Airport in Marstons Mills. Mr. Polando retired to Cape Cod in 1972, spending his days at Hyannis Airport often flying banners.

Downtown Hyannis Zoning Revision

Updated public information at:

<https://www.townofbarnstable.us/departments/planninganddevelopment/Projects/Downtown-Hyannis-Zoning-Revision.asp>

The Town of Barnstable is proposing revisions to the zoning in Downtown Hyannis. The draft zoning amendment and zoning district map is available on the Town’s Downtown Hyannis Zoning Revision webpage for public review and comment. A virtual community meeting will be held on August 2nd at 6pm to present the proposed amendment, and to discuss how the proposal varies from the current zoning and its potential impact on development downtown. There will be opportunity for questions and comments.

Community Meeting on Downtown Hyannis Zoning Revisions

Date:	Monday, August 2, 2021
Time:	6:00 p.m.
Zoom Link:	https://zoom.us/j/93240771707

Phone:	888 475 4499 US Toll-free

During the review period, comments may be submitted via the online forum on the webpage, or submitted directly to staff via e-mail. Planning staff will also be available for virtual office hours, after the community meeting, on Wednesday August 4, 2021 from 12:00 PM to 1:00 PM via Zoom (Meeting ID 945 9112 0400) and Monday August 9, 2021 from 4:00 PM to 5:00 PM via Zoom (Meeting ID 970 9544 6310) for additional questions and comments.

Purpose

The Downtown Hyannis Rezoning effort is a major step towards implementing the goals presented within the Town’s Local Comprehensive Plan, Housing Production Plan, and the Growth Incentive Zone Strategic Plan with a particular focus on increasing residential and mixed-use development, and defining specifications for building form and placement that respond to local context through scale, and design considerations. The focus of this effort is to create a predictable regulatory framework that encourages compact residential development, compatible with traditional development patterns, meeting a range of housing needs. The proposed amendment additionally aligns with modern form-based code techniques which focus on the physical form of development, emphasizing a strong relationship between the building and the broader context, public spaces, streets, surrounding buildings and the use of frontage areas, unlike traditional zoning which predominately focuses on the type of use allowed on the land.

The conceptual illustration above represents the intent of this zoning amendment with a focus on promoting an increase in multi-family and mixed-use density while establishing a stronger relationship between the development and the greater context through the form and placement of buildings.

Area of Focus

This proposal focuses on downtown Hyannis, the area designated as the Growth Incentive Zone (GIZ), and the existing “Hyannis Village Zoning Districts,” all currently served by public sewer and water. Hyannis serves as the regional commercial and transportation hub of the Cape. Achieving a greater density of jobs and housing within the GIZ supports the community’s vision of a vibrant, livable, mixed-use, walkable regional center. More dense, compact housing options paired within buildings that respond Hyannis’ unique character can support a mix of housing choices for all ages and incomes while encouraging healthier and more sustainable lifestyles.

West Nile Virus Identified in 12 Mosquito Samples Collected in Barnstable, Middlesex, and Suffolk Counties

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health has identified 12 West Nile virus positive mosquito samples collected in Barnstable, Middlesex and Suffolk Counties. The populations of mosquito vectors that transmits WNV and EEE are above average and increasing due to intense regional precipitation events and continued warm weather. Avoid mosquito bites by using EPA approved repellents, appropriate clothing and avoiding peak mosquito activity between dusk and dawn. Remove standing water by emptying containers and tarps. Check your risk levels throughout the season by visiting the State interactive website at:

<https://www.mass.gov/infodetails/massachusetts-arbovirus-update>

Please review the 2021 MDPH Surveillance and Response Plan for updates to risk levels and risk messaging.

<https://www.mass.gov/doc/2021-arbovirus-surveillance-and-response-plan/download>

Establish good mosquito avoidance habits now:

- Teach children to be aware of mosquito activity around them and avoid it
- Pick a repellent with an EPA-approved active ingredient
- Use long sleeves to cover up when possible
- Remove standing water to help reduce mosquito populations
- Repair screens

If you should have any questions, please call us at the Health Division Office at 508 862-4644.

Cyanobacteria Notice

WHEN IN DOUBT STAY OUT

Q: WHAT DOES CYANOBACTERIA LOOK LIKE?

A: IT CAN LOOK LIKE PEA SOUP OR A BLUE-GREEN PAINT SPILL ON THE WATER'S SURFACE. THE WATER COULD ALSO LOOK MURKY A BROWNISH GREEN MILKY GREEN OR BLUE.

LEARN MORE AT
WWW.BARNSTABLEWATERRESOURCES.COM

As we enter the summer season, we wanted to let you know the Town is planning to resume cyanobacteria monitoring and reporting. However, this program will have a delayed start this year due to unanticipated staff turnover. We expect the program to resume in July. Until this program is back up and running, we wanted to provide some tips to identify cyanobacteria blooms, what to do if you suspect a bloom, and who to contact.

Identifying Cyanobacteria Blooms

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health has provided examples of cyanobacteria blooms with scums and without scums. <https://www.mass.gov/service-details/identifying-cyanobacterial-blooms-and-scums-photographs-of-blooms-and-scums>

How do I know if there is a harmful algal bloom in the water?

Cyanobacteria can cause the water to appear slightly discolored, cloudy, or resemble pea soup or paint. They are usually blue or green but can also be brown or red. They can also give the water a bad odor. The cyanobacteria in some blooms are dispersed throughout the water, while in other blooms they are concentrated in a scum or mat, either on the surface of the water or in sediment along the shoreline.

What if you Suspect a Cyanobacteria Bloom?

WHEN IN DOUBT, STAY OUT!

If you see a possible cyanobacteria bloom, avoid contact with the water.

Contact the Health Department at 508-862-4644 or email health@town.barnstable.ma.us, if the bloom is at a recreational waterbody.

Sign Up for Cyanobacteria Alerts

Last month, the Town contracted with the Association to Preserve Cape Cod (APCC) to conduct routine monitoring and reporting of Cyanobacteria in Barnstable's Lakes and Ponds. If you are interested in receiving an email notification, when a potentially toxic bloom is identified by APCC, you must opt-in to the APCC toxic alerts. In order to receive email notification for toxic alerts, click this link: <https://apcc.org/our-work/science/community-science/cyanobacteria/cyanobacteria-alert/> This link will bring you to a webpage where you must enter your email in order to receive toxic alerts. ## Cape Cod Climate Action Plan Approved by the Cape Cod Commission

First of its kind plan for Cape Cod sets actionable goals to address climate change

The Cape Cod Commission approved the region's first-ever climate action plan during its July 22, 2021 meeting. The Cape Cod Climate Action Plan sets actionable goals for Cape Cod, within the Commonwealth of Massachusetts framework. It is intended to foster collaborative, targeted action to address climate change in measurable ways. The plan identifies strategies and actions the region can take to mitigate the Cape's contributions to climate change and adapt to its impacts. Input gathered from a wide range of stakeholders in an extensive and collaborative region-wide engagement and outreach effort informed the plan, along with a regional greenhouse gas emissions inventory, an economic and fiscal impact analysis, and a legal and jurisdictional analysis. The final plan incorporates feedback from hundreds of stakeholders across the region. The plan targets the region's highest emitting sectors, transportation and energy, as identified in the greenhouse gas emissions inventory, and includes strategies that apply more broadly to support successful implementation. Strategies outlined will require action across all sectors and actors, including all levels of government, businesses, non-governmental organizations, and others. "The Commission was challenged to provide a meaningful plan for our region to address both the causes and effects of climate change," Executive Director Kristy Senatori said. "The plan approved meets that challenge, offering multiple paths forward to address the effects already felt and reduce those yet to come." Priority strategies for mitigating greenhouse gas emissions include reducing energy consumption and striving towards net zero energy buildings; promoting efficient land-use policies and development patterns; generating and increasing the use of safe, reliable, and clean energy; reducing vehicle miles traveled and supporting low and no carbon transportation options; accelerating the electrification of the transportation system; and reducing emissions by increasing and enhancing natural carbon storage. Priority strategies for adapting to the impacts of climate change include addressing vulnerabilities in public infrastructure and the road network; identifying approaches for managing development in coastal resource areas; and addressing vulnerable buildings and structures through retrofits and relocation. Measuring progress towards meeting the goals of the Climate Action Plan will require both long-term tracking of regional performance measures and shorter-term tracking of the implementation of specific strategies and actions. Updates to the regional greenhouse gas emission inventory, tracking of regional performance measures, and communication of regional progress will be key in ensuring effective implementation. The Climate Action plan calls on all sectors of our community to work together to reduce risk, make communities more resilient, and shift behavior to reduce the region's contributions to the causes of climate change. ## Proper Management of Pet Waste

Do Your "Doody" for Clean Water

You hate stepping in it. And fish hate swimming in it, too! Dogs produce a lot of waste which, if not disposed of properly, can end up in our waterways. Do your part to keep our waters and public areas clean and healthy! Bag your pet's waste and throw it in a trashcan..

DO

DON'T

Did you know that the average dog can produce nearly a pound of waste each day?

- Pet waste left on lawns and in public spaces is not only gross. It can be quite harmful too.
- Pet waste contains twice as much bacteria as human waste!
- If left in your yard, pet waste can kill grass and other plants.
- Adults and children who come in contact with it can get sick.
- When pet waste washes into storm drains and waterways, it can make the water unhealthy for people and wildlife.
- Pet waste in waterways can even cause algae to grow, making the water turn an unpleasant green color.

Do your "doody" in both public areas and in your yard.

To help keep our waterbodies clean and to comply with Barnstable's General By-Laws (Part I; Chapter 403; Section 403-7 Nuisances Committed by Dogs), always carry a plastic bag or other collection means with you when you walk your dog and be sure to pick up your dog's poop and dispose of it in a trash can. Citations and penalties between $25.00 (first offense) and $50.00 (second offense) can be issued for failing to meet these requirements.
